

How do I pay for CSP Services?

Since CSP is a Medicaid-funded program, consumers typically do not have a co-pay. You can also choose to pay for your services out of pocket if you do not have Medicaid.

Please bring your insurance cards to your assessment.

You can ask for Rock County's Payment Policy for more information about self-pay costs.

What are Community Support Programs?

Community Support Programs or CSPs are outpatient treatment programs designed to provide mental health treatment and rehabilitation to members of the community living with serious and persistent mental illnesses (Bipolar, Schizophrenia and other psychotic disorders).

The treatment provided is recovery focused, person centered and community based. Being community based allows participants to receive services in the community and in their natural environment rather than in a typical office setting. Treatment is individualized based on each person's needs and goals.

What type of treatment is provided in a CSP?

The type of services a person receives is based upon an assessment which occurs in the first 30 days following program enrollment. We also ask what participants are hoping to gain from their involvement in the program. The following list is an example of the services provided:

- Psychiatry
- Psychotherapy
- Medication management and monitoring
- Psychosocial rehabilitation
- Social opportunities
- Assistance with activities of daily living
- Benefit/case management and connection to resources
- Vocational Rehabilitation

In addition to these services, participants are involved in a treatment plan meeting every six months to identify their goals and to incorporate those goals into their treatment.

Who works in a CSP? What would treatment be like?

Community Support Programs are staffed by a multidisciplinary team of professionals. They work together as a team to provide services. What this means is that the participant may have one CSP staff member assigned as their case manager and another as their therapist. It also means that some participants will have regular contact with several different staff for different rehabilitative purposes.

Using a team model allows the participant to receive care that is consistent, uniform and structured to meet their needs.

The ultimate goal is that participants will spend less time in institutional settings, such as hospitals, jails and prisons, and will spend more time living life in the community, working towards recovery and meeting their life goals.
