Green Tips of the Week: Green Tips – Turn off the television.

One great way to save money is to watch less television. You will end up viewing less ads which in turn can lead to less purchases. You will also save on your electric bill. After reducing your hours in front of the tube you may find yourself reevaluating your cable bill and how much money is spent on premium channels. You will also have more free time, which in turn can lead to money saving projects around the house.
