Executive Summary:

The Arrowhead library System will provide twenty (20) job searching, resume writing, and on-line job application training sessions for staff and the public at the seven member libraries in Rock County. Arrowhead will contract with a computer trainer to conduct the workshops. The Arrowhead Library System will also be purchasing four (4) laptops that can be used as a miniature computer lab for training in the five small public libraries. Hedberg Public Library has a computer lab that accommodates 16 people. Beloit Public Library's computer lab accommodates 12 people. All of the libraries have wireless access and the laptops will connect with the wireless networks at the five libraries in the communities of Clinton, Milton, Edgerton, Evansville and Orfordville. This grant is especially welcome to Rock County public libraries during this period of economic difficulty. On-line resumes, job advertisements, and applications for jobs are a common way for applicants and employers to communicate. Public libraries are often the only public and free access to the internet for job seekers and others who cannot afford internet connections.
